Die Bieter

From the St. Louis Revoille. A DUCK OF A MAN. BY SOLITAIRE.

Dear me, I'm now a joyous wife, I've left my anxious mother, And such a man ha I have got-I think there's he'er another The other day, when in a fret. I rained my costly fan, He softly smiled, but nothing said, For he's a "duck of a man !

He rocks the cradle, and the babe He dandles on his knee, And when the cherub nanghty is, He laughs with heartier glee. He never snubs me when I'm o ut— I do not think he can Behave as some vife, cross men do, He's such a "duck of a man!"

The other day he brought me home A stylish little bonnet.— Forgetting where he put the hat, I set myself upon it. I crushed un dollars' Worth right flat, When straight away he ran And bought a prettier, -oh, the dear Ain't he a "duck of a man?"

I burnt his cloak the other day Against our parlor stove— Instead of chiding me, he said I was a turtle dove: And then his watch to sis I give, And threw out—he never frowned, He's such a 'duck of a man?' Who to the window ran

My sister Mary envies me-Turns up her little nose, And spiteful says, "my sister dear, There your hen pecked husband goes. She need nt talk, the saucy firt, She'll have, if she only can, A husband half as good as mine, Though not a "duck of a man!"

WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?

Thy neighbor? It is he whom thou Hast power to aid and bless Whose aching heart and burning brow Thy soothing hand may press.

Thy neighbor? 'Tis the fainting poor, . Whose eye with want is dim. Whom hunger sends from door to door; Go thou and succor him.

Thy neighbor? 'Tis the heart bereft Of every earthly gem; Widow and orphan helpless left; Go thou and shelter them.

Thy neighbor? 'Tis the weary man, ... Whose years are at the brim, Bent low with sickness, cares and pains; Go thou and comfort him.

Thy neighbor? Yonder toiling slave, Fettered in thought and limb. Whose thoughts are all beyond the grave; Go thou and ransom hinr.

O pass not, pass not heedless by; Perhaps thou canst redeem The breaking heart from misery, Go share thy lot with him.

A GOLDEN RULE. One appeal to God above, Supplication for his love, Daily offer. Peace of mind Makes thee happy, good and kind, Daily sing one cheerful song, From the bosum's fiery throng; Daily do one noble deed, Daily sow one blessing's seed.

Daily make one for thy friend, Daily from thy surplus spend; Daily when the gift is thine. Write one verse in strains divine.

Daily seek kind nature's face ; Dady seek for some new grace ; Daily dry one sufferer's tear, Daily one grieved brother cheer.

Daily drink from sparkling eye Sweeter rapture; soar on high! Then thy life will know no night, And thy death be robed in light.

From the New York Mirror. SAILING SONG. DY J. H. MATHEWS. Agair, my lads, our vessel carves Her way with easy motion; Again we ride the merry tide To lands beyond the ocean.

We leave, perchance, a mother dear; A sister's arms, or daughter's; Perchance the love revealing tear Is apingled with the waters.

We leave be! ind each earthly home-The friends that boyhood found us; We break, the careless seas to roam, The dearest that bound us.

The winds will agitate the sea; The waves be wild and frantic; But let us trust to God, as we Float on the blue Atlantic.

And as we freely dash along Among the waves that know us, Let's rouse a cheering parting song, And join in hearty chorus.

QTESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Do you enjoy good health? Yes, very much, when I have it. What are eggs new-a days? Partly enckens.

Will you give me a half cup of coffee?

We have no half cups.

Don't you think the sun is very warm to-day? Partly chickens. Can't tell—I haven't been there.
Did you saw a load of wood for me last

No-but I saw your wife. No-but I saw your wife.

Have you engaged to take that cloth?

Why, no, I m engaged to Charles

Are you not dear in your prices, Miss? I suppose so. Every body says "I am a little deat."

Are you a Methodist or Baptist? Neither—I'm a shoemaker. How do you find yourself? I hav'nt been lost. My son, how is it that you waste so much? I don't waste-its sister who's wasted.

No Excuse for a Bald Head. HE following communication from the Rev. Professor Eaton of College, N. Y. in addition to hundreds of other ers equally respectable, should remove the doubts of every reasonable person of the uniform and singular efficacy of Jayn'es Hair

DR. D. JAYNE .- Dear Sir :- I cannot say my hair is restored, but I can say that it appears to be in as rapid a process of restoration as could reasonably be expected. I had not finished the first bottle, before a decided change was manifest over the bald part of the head to which it was applied. A new growth of fine glossy hair, much like that of an intant's appeared, and has continued to increase, and I have had it cut two or three times. I have recently commerced upon the third bottle, but have been a good deal irregular in the use of the "Tonie" from the first, and from this cause I apprehend that the effect is at present less than it othewise would have been.

1 began the use of the Tonic with little or no faith that it would ever he successful on my head, though I felt entire confidence in your statements of what it had done to others, and I was as much surprised as delighted when I saw the effect. You recollect the ap pearance of my head when in your office I assure you my hair has been nearly, if not quite, an inch longer the times I have had it cat, 6h these parts which were nearly destitute af any, when you saw me. It was, however very fine, though quite thick. I am flushed with sanguine hope of final success in the dilwith sanguine nope of final success in the offigent use of your Tonic, which (anidst all the hair humbugs which have been advertised in the papers,) I am constrained to believe is what it claims to be, and that it will make their heads. PROSPECTUS

OF A NEW DEMOCRATIC PAPER

The Southern Journal, To be published in Tultahussee. Florida. H). undersigned proposes to establish in the City of Tallahassee, a weekly Newspaper, to be mitled ! The Southern Journal, to be devoted to Politics, Literature, Agriculture, the cause of Temperance, and Morality generally. In politics the "Southern Journal" will attach itself to the southern school, and sustain those principles which among Southern Dem ocrats are known as the State Rights Doctrines.

It will contend for a strict construction of the Constitution of the United States; believing that the Federal Government was the result of a compact between separate and independent States, and that every power not expres granted, was reserved to the States, severally That the exercise of any power not expressly granted on the part of the Federal Government is an usurpation, and should be checked.

The "Southern Journal" will contend for the doctrine that the Federal Government should take no money from the people of the States, except by the express grant under the authority of explicit terms of the Constitution. It will contend that no Tariff should be imposed, except for the purpose of Revenue, and to defray the necessary expenses of an econonwinal administration of Government. It will oppose the appropriation of the pro-States

These are some of the fending topics which will engage the attention of the "Southern Journal" In relation to the local affairs of the State the Journal will be Democratic, and support the policy of the Democratic Party: With the strife and the bitterness of a by gone day, it will have as little to do as the mature of its position will permit. Those questions which have in times past divided the public mind, which have been discussed and settled—which are no longsr practical questions, and which can have no weight with practical statesmen or enlightened people, it will permit to pass unregarded, unless imperiously forced upon its

The "Southern Journal" will be published every Tuesday, and furnished to subscribers at three dollars per annum, payable invariably nadvance.
